

) Nous avons réussi cette entreprise parce que nous avons pu compter sur le soutien de nombreux États membres qui ont collaboré avec nous, avec la présidence, pour l'élaboration des textes mais aussi pour la négociation directe de leur contenu avec les représentants africains.

) Nowadays, the design of energy efficient and comfortable building results as the solution to a complex optimization that involves a great number of interdependent variables. In such a complex system that is characterized by many requirements, sometimes conflicting, the use of an integrated design approach can speed up the design process, allow evaluating and comparing a great number of design options and lead to optimized performance at multiple levels.

?) During the first year of a child's life, parents and carers are concerned with its physical development; during the second year, they watch the baby's language development very carefully. It is interesting just how easily children learn language. Children who are just three or four years old, who cannot yet tie their shoelaces, are able to speak in full sentences without any specific language training.
